Business News and Resources to Strengthen Leander's Economic Development One Entrepreneur at a Time

Buy Local, Plant More Seeds to Grow

How do you grow a successful business, a bountiful garden and a thriving community? Buy local and plant more seeds! As spring ushers in the hope of new beginnings and opportunities consider buying local first, in Leander. Leander offers a growing number of products and services through traditional brick and mortar businesses and varied home-based and virtual businesses.

Planting more seeds is a time-honored pillar of success in growing a business as well as in education and personal growth. Farmers know it. Marketers know it. And moms know it. Adopt it now, or at anytime, to cast a wide net to help grow and sustain your business.

In today's market, businesses need an integrated marketing plan that includes a strong online presence. Fortunately, network marketing is a strategy deeply rooted in the art and practice of continually planting more seeds. The City of Leander and Greater Leander Chamber have offered monthly networking opportunities to local entrepreneurs, small business and commercial real estate since 2005. They now include social networking through LinkedIn, Facebook and Twitter (see p. 2). A new buy local e-savings program is in the works to help residents receive timely offers and hot deals from local businesses.

For a bountiful garden or Texas Hill Country landscape, shop Leander's nurseries. From planning to maintenance, Leander's nursery industry has the plants, products, tools and expertise for any lawn, garden or landscape you can dream. Visit them today and enjoy the power of buying local—everyone wins. eye ON

Census 2010: Everyone Counts in Leander

April 1, 2010 is National Census Day. Forms for the 2010 Census are expected to arrive at your door mid-March, and again in April if you have not responded. The form contains 10 short questions to obtain basic information about your household and each person at the residence. The head of household (“Person 1”) should complete the form and return it via mail.

Why is participation and an accurate population count important? Your participation can ensure thousands of your tax dollars are returned to Leander in critical services for you and your family. These services can range from safety and health programs to parks and transportation facilities—programs that improve your life. Your answers also can mean the difference of thousands of dollars to your city over the next 10 years.

Leander’s population has grown from 7,596 in the 2000 Census to an estimated 30,000 in 2010. The number of households has increased over 400%. This gives everyone in Leander a huge stake in taking part in the 2010 Census and makes an increase in participation more critical. Any undercount will cost the city and affect the community.

Getting an accurate count of the population during these tough economic times is especially important to local governments and residents struggling with financial problems. Census data is used to fund numerous programs including:

- Food stamps
- Section 8 Housing
- National School Lunch Program
- Head Start
- State Children’s Insurance Program
- Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Program
- Foster care
- Child care

Completing the 2010 Census form is safe, easy and as you can see vitally important to every household and resident. Your information is confidential and your privacy is protected by law. Names and other identifying information are stripped from the responses and data is never released that would allow an individual to be identified. None of the information collected from the Census can be used to enforce laws against a respondent. Visit <http://2010.census.gov> for more information.

“Take 10 minutes” to complete and mail your 2010 Census when it arrives. See “Census 2010: Know the Facts” for more details. And remember, “it’s in our hands” to make everyone in Leander count.

Things you should know BEFORE . . .

Census 2010: Know the Facts

Census workers will carry an identification badge and may have a “U.S. Census Bureau” bag when going door-to-door to gather information.

A worker will not ask residents for Social Security numbers, bank account information or other information of that nature. They will never ask to enter your home.

A worker will not reveal any information they gather from residents. Any employee who might share that information faces up to five years in prison and a $250,000 fine.

Participation in the 2010 Census is required by law. If a resident does not respond, the courts can impose a $5,000 fine.

For more information about the 2010 U.S. Census, go online to <http://2010.census.gov>.
